

To Kevin Witkos:

I'm a sixty three year old and a long time NRA member. So it's no surprise I oppose any new legislation that strips me of our Second Amendment Rights! The shooting in Sandy Hook is tragic , but there are no gun bands that will prevent this from happening again. I actually find it appalling that our legislators would use this tragedy too promote their political agenda. I do feel that the school districts should take it upon themselves to secure their schools. I think a step towards lessening the occurrence, would have those who choose to be a parent be required to take a parenting course, that would include respect, manors , common sense, loyalty , discipline etc. But more important the parent should be taught to recognize mental illness within their child, which now according to our new health care act a child is consider an adult at twenty seven not eighteen. This course should be repeated every five years, and at the age of seven the child should attend with the parent.

Respectfully,

Lee Millard
Colebrook, CT