

To whom it may concern,

We must change our gun laws now. Under no circumstances should the kind of weapon used to kill 26 defenseless children and their children at Sandy Hook Elementary be available to anyone outside of the military. The use of common sense needs to prevail, and changes need to be made that allow Americans their constitutional right to bear arms without giving them the ability to slaughter a large number of human lives in the blink of an eye.

Respectfully,

Lisa Marlin

Sent from my iPhone