

I live in Sandy Hook. I am from Alabama & Louisiana. I know how important guns are to people....we were able to get our dinner at times thanks to my brother's gun. It's more normal to have at least one gun than to not have one at all. I personally enjoy shooting guns.

But to quote former President Clinton: this is nuts! As one of my friends from Louisiana recently said, "If you need more than 10 rounds to kill an animal, you need a new hobby."

Military style weapons belong exactly there....in the military.

Anyone who does not advocate more thorough background checks has a reason for that...and it's probably not the best reason.

Anyone who doesn't want weapons traced back to the original source has a reason for that.

Anyone who doesn't want physicians to know if they have guns in the house...well, why on Earth not?

This is abuse of the second amendment just as the Westboro Church is abuse of our Freedom of Speech.

With freedom comes responsibility. Period, end of story.

Sincerely,

Liz Sortino
