

I would like to take this opportunity to respectfully voice opposition to the unconstitutional gun control proposals that are being made. The second amendment has nothing to do with hunting; it was written to allow the citizens the right to bear arms to defend their life and liberty. It is clearly stated that this right shall not be infringed. The proposals that are being made would violate the second amendment.

There are a lack of morals in society, which truthfully is not caused by legal firearm owners. As an example, the folks pushing for gun control are also generally in favor of abortions. What example does that set for our children? By contrast, the firearm owners that I know are responsible owners with strong morals and family values. Guns are not the problem, it is the lack of morals and mental health issues that are the problem.

The second amendment shall not be infringed upon. The lawmakers in public office have a duty to not violate the second amendment.

Sincerely,

Matt Cocco
