

I'm writing to you as Connecticut resident who is concerned about the laws the state in which I currently reside would like to pass pertaining to firearms. It's becoming painfully obvious that law makers are not concerned about the opinion of those who are opposed to additional gun laws that will not make any difference, but appear to be acting in more of a communist manner, rather than democratic. I realize that Connecticut is in the spotlight in the wake of the Newtown shooting, and you wish to try and show the world you mean business(even if the new laws are going to do more harm than good), however this is still America and every opinion counts. Therefore I am respectfully requesting you oppose any proposed legislation that is introduced that has not had a full public hearing. Thank you for your time and consideration.
