

I support safer gun laws in CT. Another shooting in Texas? how many times does this have to happen before people start believing that something needs to get done regardless of their views. How can everyone not see that there is a real problem in America and guns are too easily found in the wrong hands.

Thanks
Melissa Brunetti