

Where's our sanity? Why would anyone, anyone at all need military weapons? For what? If we make it impossible for one more person to commit the type of Colorado or Connecticut massacre that we have witnessed, it is worth it. They are out there, we can't find every mentally challenged person, but we can keep them from committing mass murder. PLEASE someone do the right thing. Background checks, of course, but get these killing machines off the streets.
