

To whom it may concern,

My husband and I do not think it is appropriate for the committee to be holding less than full public meetings on the matter of increasing the safety of our children and the public. The recommendations that come from your group should represent the will of all the people not just those that have come to the table with preconceived ideas. No legislation should be rushed. New York State is a good example of what happens when laws are signed before all voices have been heard. We urge you to hold full public hearings on the matter of increasing the safety of the citizen of Connecticut.

Sincerely,

Selina and Ron Rifkin
