

I believe you need to work harder to enforce the laws that there already are instead of trying to make new ones. All of these acts of violence are coming from people who are criminals who stole these guns. You don't see any cases where a CCW holder or someone who is legally registered to a rifle go on a shooting spree. They are responsible people that we need in our society. You want to take all the fun out of our nations pastime shooting and make it harder for all of the good people to defend themselves against the bad guys,rapist,gangs,and murderers.

Shane

Sent from my iPhone