Dear Elected Officials of Connecticut:

I watched the CT-N “live” feed on Wednesday night, in its entirety, where most of you were seated on the stage of Newtown High School and spent the wee hours of Groundhog’s Day riveted to viewing the entire hearing again. It just concluded at 6:00 AM. Whatever Phil prognosticates in an hour, I can assure you that “our” winter of sadness and tears, here in Sandy Hook, shall continue far longer than another six weeks.

I moved to Sandy Hook when I was young, skinny and stupid; filled with naiveté. That was almost thirty-four years ago. I play violin and am now retired from many years as a public school music educator; so, I have spent many an occasion either seated on a stage or standing with my back to the audience, conducting.

I sincerely hope to the Lord above that I was not viewing but a performance on CT-N. The world, state and our little bruised and battered hamlet of Sandy Hook are watching you. Yes, we shall learn to walk again. LEAD US!!!
