

As a taxpayer and citizen of CT all my life, I must say that this state used to be one of the best states to live in in every way. But over the last 30 years CT has totally overtaxed it's taxpayers and has totally overdone it with entitlements. And now with Governor Malloy volunteering CT to take and house 1500 Syrian refugees, what is he thinking? Please hear us and let the people of our state decide in matters like this. How can our governor just make decisions like this? Are we not paying enough out to our own residents? We cannot afford any more charity.

Thank you for hearing me,
