

Taxes to pay for political patronage is becoming a crime. It is time to stop paying unqualified public employees large salaries and inflated retirement benefits because of their political relationship.

The state will continue to lose taxpayers and businesses if this continues.

James Paulochik