

I and many of my wealthier patients will most certainly leave Connecticut to avoid the high taxes both in the estate tax range and in income from pension withdraw after age 70. Personally I like to live here as I have for 40 years. As we are currently losing business you want to keep the over 65 year olds who pay both estate and income taxes as well as use the medical facilities which support state employment. The answer is to control spending!!! Or drive us out and then there will be no money to spend!!

Scott Soloway, MD