AUSTIN BALDWIN.

Austin Baldwin, agent of the State Line of transatlantic steamers, died yesterday morning at his home, No. 162 West Twenty-second-street. He was born in 1807 at Cavendish, Vt. His family came to this city while he was a child. He was educated here for the Bar, but gave up the profession of law to engage in business. He was one of the organizers of the Whig Party and an enthusiastic advocate of its principles. Henry Clay and Daniel Webster were among his early friends. In 1836 he removed to Middletown, Conn., but still retained his active interest in politics. He served one term as Speaker of the House of Representatives, held office under Gov. Harrison, and was twice nominated for the Governorship of the State. In 1857 he returned to New-York and engaged in business, continuing in it to the time of his death. The funeral will take place at Calvary Church, Fourth-avenue and Twenty-second street, on Tuesday at 9:30 A. M. The interment will be at Middletown, Conn.
