Reported Sexual Violence Statistics and Data at Middlesex Community College

Middlesex Community College was chartered by the State of Connecticut in 1966 to serve the 18 towns Middlesex County including Middletown, Meriden, and the Shoreline. We serve between 2,500 and 3,000 full- and part-time students who attend the College each semester enrolled in credit bearing classes. Approximately 1,200 take classes through our various Continuing Education programs each year. Since 1966 Middlesex Community College has graduated over 9,400 students with associate’s degrees. Another 900 certificates have been awarded. All students and employees, whether enrolled in or teaching credit bearing courses or in our Continuing Education programs, whether studying in Middletown or at Platt H.S. in Meriden, whether taking on ground classes or studying online, are covered by the college’s sexual harassment and assault policies.

As a publicly-supported institution of higher education, MxCC provides an array of educational services designed to meet the training, occupational, intellectual, and cultural needs of the people of its region. Middlesex is an integral part of the communities it serves in Middletown, Meriden, and the Shoreline, and, as our mission statement says, “Students are the center of Middlesex Community College.” We keep students at the center by providing affordable, accessible, quality education and support services and by doing all we can to help our students succeed. We have a commitment to maintaining and improving the integrity of our environment and a deep concern for incorporating civic engagement into our courses and activities.

We attempt to keep our students and employees safe and aware of issues of sexual harassment and assault through awareness campaigns, presentations, video viewings, distribution of the sexual harassment brochure, class discussions, and use of the web-based Not Anymore program.

Discussion of Statistical Data
The college is fortunate that incidents of sexual assault, stalking, and intimate partner violence on the MxCC campus have been relatively few. Because of our commuter population, such incidents, if any, tend to occur off campus. Sometimes our students share this information with a staff or faculty member as a disclosure and no action is needed to be taken by the college. Brochures are available for staff and faculty members to give to those reporting or disclosing an incident and all members of the college community can get the support they need. Since September 2014, all incidents reported or disclosed to a faculty or staff member have been tracked on a tracking form submitted to the Title IX Coordinator. Prior to this date, faculty/staff were not required to complete and submit a tracking to the Title IX Coordinator.

Reports:
Students:
We received no reports of sexual harassment or assault on the part of students in 2017.

Employees:
We received one report of sexual harassment submitted by several students against a faculty member in Fall 2017. The report was investigated and the faculty member was issued a verbal “cease and desist” warning. The situation continued in Spring 2018 and the faculty member has since been removed from his position. The Spring 2018 situation will be more fully reflected in next year’s report.

Disclosures:
We received one domestic violence disclosure for the 2017 calendar year with a request for a class change. This request was accommodated.

We received a disclosure from a male student that his girlfriend, who attends a college out of state, might file a sexual harassment claim against him. He was referred to 2-1-1.

Program Types:
(List and Describe Each Program Type)

Awareness:

1) Information and sexual assault policy published in Installation: The In-stall-ation is published once a month and hung in all toilet stalls at the college. The September and January publications each year contain our nondiscrimination statement and Title IX/sexual assault information.

2) Brochure: What The MxCC Community Needs to Know About Sexual Harassment and Sexual Assault: Policy & Reporting Procedures distributed throughout the college: This brochure was developed in 2015 to supplant our previous brochure and updated in 2016 and 2017. It is meant to inform students about the issue of sexual assault, our policies, the concept of affirmative consent, how to stay safe, and how to report a sexual assault.

3) Resources Information: All bathrooms contain information on resources available in Middletown and Meriden in the case of a sexual assault. Each poster has tear off slips with agency phone numbers.

4) Presentation on Intimate Partner Violence on made to the Middlesex Community College community on April 12, 2017.

5) Resources Information: All bathrooms contain information on resources available in Middletown and Meriden in the case of domestic violence. Each poster has tear off slips with agency phone numbers.

Risk Reduction:

6) Brochure: What The MxCC Community Needs to Know About Sexual Harassment and Sexual Assault: Policy & Reporting Procedures distributed throughout the college: As described above, this brochure was developed in 2015 to supplant our previous brochure and updated in 2016. It is meant to inform students about the issue of sexual assault, our policies, the concept of affirmative consent, how to stay safe, and how to report a sexual assault. It is listed under the category of "Risk Reduction" because it also includes information on staying safe.

7) Video Viewing: Asking For It: The Ethics and Erotics of Sexual Consent: Showed video to faculty, staff, and student groups followed by Q&A and discussion. The video looks at the concept of affirmative consent from a philosophical perspective. The faculty and staff presentations also included a PowerPoint on the BOR's Consensual Relationship Policy and reporting of the suspected abuse of a child. Presented five times.

Prevention:

8) Implementation of Not Anymore Training: Not Anymore training on sexual assault was offered to students via email blasts. Participation was voluntary.

9) Middlesex Community College sponsored a presentation on Intimate Partner Violence on April 12, 2017

10) The college's Sexual Assault Community Resource Team met one time in 2017. An additional meeting had been scheduled but had to be cancelled due to inclement weather.

"Sexual Violence" was used aggregately to encompass sexual assault, stalking, and intimate partner violence, as defined by C.G.S. The full text of each of the above reportables is as follows:
Welcome and Welcome Back!! It’s been a short summer; I’m sure you’d agree. There never seems to be as much time as we’d like in the summer to spend with our families, go to the beach, travel, read that pile of books on the nightstand, or take care of all those home fix-up projects. But here we are, back at MxCC. The faculty and staff are excited to see you, we’re ready to get down to work, and we’ll do our best to help you achieve your goals. Look for this publication, The In-stall-ation, posted once a month in this convenient location. It contains News You Can Use, and some that you probably can’t, and it can make for fun reading when there’s nothing else handy. Best wishes for a wonderful Fall semester.

Continuing Notice of Nondiscrimination: Middlesex Community College does not discriminate on the basis of race, color, religious creed, age, sex, national origin, marital status, ancestry, present or past history of mental disorder, learning disability or physical disability, sexual orientation, gender identity and expression or genetic information in its programs and activities. In addition, the College does not discriminate in employment on the additional basis of veteran status or criminal record. The following people have been designated to handle inquiries or complaints regarding non-discrimination policies and practices: Dr. Adrienne Maslin; Dean of Students/Primary Title IX Coordinator and Section 504/ADA Coordinator, Founders Hall, rm. 123, amaslin@mxcc.edu; Ms. Anastasia Pych, Human Resources Director, Founders Hall, rm. 116, apych@mxcc.edu.

Middlesex Community College prides itself on being a welcoming and engaging academic community that embraces each person with dignity and respect. We are a place where the rich diversity of our community is celebrated, and where acts of discrimination and hate are not accepted.

The MxCC administration stands firm in supporting the college’s mission to put students in the center of all we do and help them achieve their individual goals. Therefore, in addition to the formal and required statement above, it is our wish to reaffirm our commitment to nondiscrimination and to making Middlesex Community College a safe place where all students, staff, and faculty can learn, work, create, and grow. Please join us on Wednesday, August 30 at 12:15 PM on the steps of Chapman Hall—Pavilion if raining—for a Moment of CommUnity, a brief celebration of who we are as a college and what we stand for.
Title IX and other Sexual Assault Legislation: As you probably know, the state of Connecticut has legislation regarding sexual violence. In 2013, the United States government passed the Campus SaVE Act, which follows earlier pieces of legislation such as Title IX of the Education Amendments of 1972, the Clery Act, and the Violence Against Women Act (VAWA), and revised sexual harassment guidelines. Middlesex Community College provides belief they are assault. If you violence, or avenues for handle reports of sexual assault: Dr. Adrienne Maslin, Dean of Students, Founders Hall Rm. 123 or amaslin@mxcc.edu; Ms. Anastasia Pych, Human Resources Director, Founders Hall, rm. 116, or apych@mxcc.edu.

Have you ever bothered to read the United States Constitution? Do you know that Thomas Jefferson did not know who signed it from Connecticut? section of the U.S. Constitution? What would you think about copying a short selection from the Constitution onto a piece of paper and write a reflection—very short—on the selection you’ve copied. Is the selection you copied still relevant for us today? Does it make sense to you? Let’s all learn more about this great document.

Friday, November 10: Fall Graduation Applications are due in the Enrollment Services Office
1. Know that the definition of sexual assault includes any unwanted sexual contact, from touching to rape.
2. Be aware that alcohol and drugs can impairs your ability to make clear decisions as well as lower sexual inhibitions.
3. Don’t assume that your date wants to have sex even if you have before.
4. Be sure you and your potential partner clearly communicate your intentions to each other.
5. Know that “consent” means agreeing to an action freely, voluntarily, and with knowledge of the nature of the act.
6. Realize that consent to one form of sexual activity is not permission to partake in every type of sexual activity.
7. Understand that “No” means “No” no matter what.
8. Stop what you’re doing if you’re receiving unclear or conflicting messages.
9. Remember that date rape is a crime that has serious consequences.
10. Be aware that men can be victims of sexual assault. If you are, seek help immediately.
10 Things You Need To Know About
SEXUAL ASSAULT
For Women

1. Go with a group of friends or to a public place if on a first or blind date.
2. Make sure your cell phone is charged and you have money for a taxi.
3. Understand that alcohol and drugs can impair your ability to make clear decisions as well as lower sexual inhibitions.
4. Keep your drink with you at all times at a bar or party.
5. Don't accept drinks from people you don't know well or trust.
6. Be aware of your sexual limits. Communicate them firmly and directly.
7. Know that you have a right to say "No" no matter what.
8. Leave immediately and go to a safe place if a situation seems suspicious or dangerous.
9. Let friends know if you plan on going somewhere with someone, where you're going, and when you'll be back.
10. If you're sexually assaulted, report it right away. If you've been raped, don't clean up, change clothes, or tamper with evidence. Call 911 and go to the emergency room immediately.

Why This Pamphlet?

At Middlesex Community College we take sexual assault seriously. In the event that you are assaulted either on or off the campus we want to make sure that you have the information you need in a clear, easy-to-read guide that will assist you in handling what will most likely be a difficult situation.

Board of Regents and Middlesex Community College Sexual Misconduct and Relationship Violence Statement
To insure that each member of the college community has the opportunity to participate fully in the process of learning and understanding, all Connecticut colleges and universities strive to maintain a safe and welcoming environment free from acts of sexual misconduct and relationship violence. It is the intent of the Colleges to provide safety, privacy and support to victims of sexual misconduct and relationship violence.
What is Sexual Assault?
Sexual assault is any sexual act with a person who did not or cannot give consent. More specifically, sexual assault is defined as:

◊ Non-consensual sexual intercourse of any kind (anal, oral, or vaginal), however slight, with any body part or object, by a man or a woman.

◊ Non-consensual sexual contact which includes sexual touching, however slight, with any object, by a man or a woman.

◊ Sexual exploitation, which includes non-consensual, unjust, or abusive sexual advantage taken by a person of another for his or her own advantage or benefit, or to benefit or advantage anyone other than the one being exploited. Examples of sexual exploitation include but are not limited to: prostitution, videotaping sexual activity of any sort without a partner’s consent, posting video or audio recordings on social media sites without consent of the individuals on the video or in the audio recording, peeping tommery, and knowingly transmitting sexually transmitted infections without a partner’s knowledge.
What is Relationship Violence?
Relationship violence is physical abuse which can include but is not limited to slapping, pulling hair, or punching. Relationship violence can also include the threat of abuse. For example, when someone threatens to hit, harm, isolate, or use a weapon on a victim or an acquaintance, friend, or family member of the victim. Further, relationship violence may include emotional abuse such as driving recklessly to scare someone, name calling, threatening to hurt one’s pets, and humiliating another person. This type of abuse occurs when one person believes he or she is entitled to control another.

What is Stalking?
Stalking is any behavior that occurs on more than one occasion that collectively instills fear in the victim or threatens her or his safety, mental health, or physical health. Such activities may include non-consensual communications (face-to-face, telephone, email, text, social media, etc.), threatening or obscene gestures, surveillance, or being present outside the victim’s classroom, home, or workplace.
What is Sexual Harassment?
Sexual harassment includes any unwelcome sexual advance or request for sexual favors, or any conduct of a sexual nature when submission to such conduct is made either explicitly or implicitly a term or condition of an individual’s education or employment.

Submission to or rejection of the conduct by an individual is used as a basis for academic or employment decisions affecting the individual. Such conduct has the purpose or effect of substantially interfering with an individual’s academic performance or creating an intimidating, hostile or offensive educational environment. Examples of conduct which may constitute sexual harassment include but are not limited to:
Sexual flirtation, touching, advances, or propositions
Verbal abuse of a sexual nature
Pressure to engage in sexual activity
Graphic or suggestive comments about an individual’s dress or appearance
Use of sexually degrading words to describe an individual
Display of sexually suggestive objects, pictures, or photographs
Sexual jokes
Stereotypic comments based upon gender
Threats, demands, or suggestions that one’s educational or employment status is contingent upon toleration of or acquiescence in sexual advances.
What is Consent?

Consent must be informed, freely and actively given, involving an understandable exchange of affirmative words or actions, which indicates a willingness to participate in mutually agreed upon sexual activity. It is the responsibility of the initiator to obtain clear and affirmative responses at each stage of sexual involvement.
What Consent is Not!!

The lack of a negative response is not consent. Consent may not be given by a minor or by any individual who is incapacitated, whether voluntarily or involuntarily, by drugs or alcohol, or for any other reason. Past consent of sexual activities does not imply ongoing or future consent. Someone who repeatedly says no and finally says yes is not giving consent. Someone who has been made to feel she or he must say yes is not giving consent. If an initiator uses a position of power or authority to coerce someone into saying yes, the initiator is not obtaining consent.
Can I Help Stop Sexual Assault?

Everyone has a role to play in ending sexual violence. It is our hope that while you are at Middlesex Community College you will take advantage of training opportunities so that you can play an active part in ending sexual assault. If you believe a situation might result in a sexual assault there are ways you can help:

- Don’t be afraid to get involved
- Get help from friends
- Get help from campus security and other college staff
- Divert the perpetrator’s attention
- Ask the person who is in a potentially dangerous situation if he or she wants to leave
- Ask the victim if he or she is okay
- Provide options and a listening ear

Not Alone

TOGETHER AGAINST SEXUAL ASSAULT
What If a Friend Tells Me She or He Was Sexually Assaulted?

If a friend discloses to you that she or he has been assaulted, the first thing to do is believe your friend. Help your friend to a safe place and ask if she or he needs medical help. If so, take your friend to the nearest hospital that has a sexual assault nurse examiner present. If your friend does not want to go to a hospital, do not insist unless it is a medical emergency. Listen to your friend without interrupting and don’t press for details. Remind your friend that she or he is not at fault. Know the resources on your campus and help your friend connect with those resources. You will find campus and community resources identified on page 17 of this booklet.
Minimizing Your Risk of Sexual Assault

Tips for Partying Smart

1. Stick with your friends. Make a plan before you go out to make it easy for you and your friends to stay connected.
2. Hold on to your drink—even when you go to the bathroom. If your drink is out of your sight, even for a few seconds, get a new one. Spiking a drink with a date rape drug can happen quickly.
3. Don’t accept a drink from anyone—unless you watch the bartender pour it.
4. Don’t drink from punch bowls or open containers.
5. Avoid clubs or parties that charge men but let women enter and drink for free.
6. Always keep your cell phone charged and on you. You never know when you’ll need it.
7. Make sure you always have a ride home or a plan to walk home with a friend.
8. Trust your instincts. If something doesn’t feel right to you, leave and get to a safe place immediately.

Minimizing Your Risk of Committing Sexual Assault

1. Listen carefully. Take time to hear what the other person has to say. If you feel he or she is not being direct or is giving you a “mixed message,” ask for clarification.

2. Don’t fall for the cliché “if they say no, they really mean yes.” If your partner says “no” to sexual contact, believe your partner and stop.

3. Remember that sexual assault is a crime. It is never acceptable to force sexual activity, no matter what the circumstances.

4. Don’t make assumptions about a person’s behavior. Don’t assume that someone wants to have sex because of the way the person is dressed, drinks, or because she or he agrees to go to your room. Don’t assume that if someone had sex with you before that person is willing to have sex with you again. Also don’t assume that if your partner consents to kissing or other sexual activities, he or she is consenting to all sexual activities.

5. Having sex with someone who is mentally or physically incapable of giving consent is rape. If you have sex with someone who is drugged, intoxicated, passed out, or is otherwise incapable of saying no or knowing what is going on, you may be guilty of rape.

6. Resist pressure from others to participate in violent acts.

When and How to Report
It is always helpful to report an incident of sexual misconduct as soon as possible. However, the college recognizes that the decision to file a report is difficult and may take time. Because memories may fade and witnesses may become inaccessible, the sooner information is gathered the greater is the ability of the college to effectively investigate and resolve the matter fairly to all parties concerned.

Confidentiality
While the college will treat reports of sexual misconduct and relationship violence seriously and sensitively for all concerned, the college cannot assure complete confidentiality, particularly when the safety of others may be involved. MxCC employees must share your report with the college's Title IX Coordinator. Reports that are completely confidential may be filed with the Sexual Assault Crisis Center (see p. 16).

- A report of sexual harassment, sexual misconduct, sexual assault, sexual exploitation, intimate partner or dating violence, and stalking always require an investigation.
- A disclosure may not always require an investigation; some people disclose in order to explain why some behavior occurred or to get something off their chest. Some disclosures may require investigating if failure to investigate might result in repeat occurrences.

The Title IX Officer will meet with the complainant to learn the nature of the complaint and to collect as much information as possible: what occurred, when it occurred, where it occurred, who the alleged perpetrator was if known, any injuries, any witnesses, any follow-up such as a visit to the hospital or rape crisis center, etc.
- The Title IX Officer will provide the complainant with information about the complainant's right to contact law enforcement and about resources for counseling and medical assistance.

- The Title IX Officer will meet with the alleged perpetrator to collect as much information about the incident as possible: what occurred, when it occurred, where it occurred, any injuries, any witnesses.
- The Title IX Officer will discuss the investigation process and possible sanctions

- The Title IX Officer will meet with each party individually to discuss the results of the preliminary investigation and next steps to be taken if necessary. Results may suggest an obvious course of action or may suggest that a hearing would be appropriate and beneficial.

- A hearing panel will be assembled and trained.
- Parties will be informed of date, time, location of the hearing, who they may bring for support or assistance, and how the hearing will be conducted.

- The hearing panel will deliberate and report its findings to the Title IX Officer.

- Sanctions will be determined as appropriate to the situation.
